BRITISH RACING GREEN AND TAN LEATHER—THE SPECIAL EDITION IS AN ENTHUSIAST'S DREAM COME TRUE.

There was a time when the back roads of America were ruled by British sports cars with dark green paint and leather seats.

Only 4000 Special Editions will be built. A personalized interior badge documents each.

And those who drove them preferred tweed caps and driving gloves to canvas tops, whatever the weather.

Now, the spirit of that time returns, with the Miata Special Edition. A car that includes British Racing Green (BRG) paint, tan leather-faced seats, leather-wrapped steering wheel, wood shift knob and handbrake grip, a tonneau cover, and a black softtop.

There's even an optional BRG hardtop.

Yet, beneath it all lives the same great Miata that captured the hearts of those romanced by the British classics—a car that “churns up all sorts of memories of late, great roadsters. The only difference is that this one's a far better, more capable car.” (Motor Trend, July 1989)

But you don't need a British roadster in your past to fall in love with a Miata. “This is what sports car driving is all about,” said Automobile Magazine (March 1989). And Car and Driver (January 1991) named Miata as one of the “Ten Best Cars” for 1991.

The Miata Special Edition—the perfect way to revive old memories. Or create new ones.
